WILLIAM A. SPROULL PIONEER, IS BURIED

William Auckmutey Sprouli was born in Stilesboro, Bartow county, Ga., June 20, 1863, to Elihu and Mary Dowden Sproull, decendents of Colonists in South Carolina. William Auckmutey Sproull is the last of the nine children.

He moved to Alabama with his widowed mother in 1880, and settled at Walnut Grove, where he on November 23, 1883, married Sarah Louella Brown. They celebrated their sixty first wedding anniversary November 23, 1944.

Knowing the opportunities Texas offered and having an unbounded desire to provide for his family, he moved to Texas and settled at Ben Arnold in December 1891, where he lived until his death, at 3:40 a. m. January 25, 1845.

He was a pioneer finding only a railroad section house and depot amid the elm and mesquite groves, and meeting cattlemen and cowboys, among whom were Robert Todd and Bob McIntosh of Cameron.

He saw the little station grow into a thriving little town where he bought the first dress length of calico sold at the general store, and lived to see it become a ghost town.

As a young man he loved sports and followed the fox hounds over the hills in Alabama on many frosty mornings. His greatest love was the good earth. Farming was his only profession and his favorite topic of conversation.

He was civic minded, always taking an active part in the affairs of the community. He was one of two men to clear the chapporal, cactus and elm from the site of the first school building at Ben Arnold and served twenty years as trustee of that school.

He was a religious man, a member of the Ben Arnold Methodist Church, serving as Steward and trustee for many years. He helped to build that church and continued his interest there even when his declining health prevented his attendance at services.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Claud C. Sproull, Frank Sproull, Charlie H. Sproull, Mary Katherine Sproull and the following grand children: Mrs. W. I. Truettner, College Station; W. H. Sproull, Austin; Mrs. Doyle Rice, Houston; Mrs. Charles Moehlman, Hearne, Claud I. Sproull, Goose Creek; Mrs. Lela McFadden, Goose Creek; S-Sgt. Tom Sproull, St. John Newfoundland; Earl Wood, Marie and Mary Earl Sproull, Ben Arnold. There are also eleven great grand children surviving.

Relatives and friends fondly addressed him as "Uncle Hood" a name given him in childhood by his "black Mammy." He was a member of the local WOW camp and a member of San Andres Lodge which organization said the last rites when the body at the age of 81 years was laid to rest in the Walker's Creek Cemetery on Friday afternoon, January 26, 1945. Floral offerings, courtesies and messages received attest to the high esteem in which W. A. "Hood" Sproull was held by all who had known him.

W. T. Whatley, Machinist 1st Class, U. S. Navy Home on Furlough; Was at Guadalcanal and Saw Bloody Battle of Tarawa; Now an Instructor

W. T. Whatley, Machinist Mate, 1st Class, United States Navy, is home for a few days furlough from his base at Newport, Rhode Island.

Whatley saw action in the South Pacific in 1942 and took part in the invasion of Guadalcanal when the first American blow was struck to stop the Jap drive on Australia. Like millions of other boys who left civilian life, he was catapaulted into the violent and bloody action which only theose who have experienced it, may know at first hand. Within 3 months after he volunteered for the navy he was assigned to ship and was in the now historic and successful battles in the early days when the going was toughest.

He is now an instructor at Newport, Rhode Island, in steam engines. There crews are assembled for ships that go to sea for the navy. He has been back in the states for about 8 months and has visited Mrs. Whatley and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Whatley, Sr., several times. Before he entered service he was associated with his father in the Whatley grocery here.

Like most top Navy men who do the job in accordance with the highest traditions of the navy, he talks little about his experiences. They have been unusual and the strain of his months of combat have left with him many sobering reflections on war and how its horrors strike deeply into the souls of the men who fight it.

Whatley is a veteran of four major engagements. His first action was the invasion of Guadalcanal in Auguest 1942. His ship took marines and their battle equipment for the first major battle. Later he saw at first hand the bloody action on Tarawa when the Marines took that Island from the Japs. His other two engagements were on Attu and Kiska in the Aleutian Islands off the Northwest coast.

Men who have been at sea in battle action are making the best instructors and his work now gives him an opportunity to impart to recruits knowledge of combat they must meet when they go to the theatre of operations.

Whatley will spend a few more days in Cameron and will return to his base at Newport.

Details of this tournament will be published early next week.

'Heil Hitler' Is Seldom Spoken

Germans Guessing Where Fuehrer Will Hide; Name Loses Glamour.

STOCKHOLM. — "Everywhere Germans are speculating on plans of Hitler and others for escape when the country collapses," an observer said here after a five-year residence in Germany. Nazi leaders, he says, virtually are in eclipse, and "enjoy less and less respect from the people."

This is the situation as he tells it:

Hitler once was placed on a pedestal as the "man who could make no mistake." Now, when Hitler's name is mentioned at all it most likely will be critically.

Before the July 20 putsch the "Heil Hitler" greeting already had virtually disappeared. Now efforts are being made to reinstate it.

Soldiers seldom die "for the Fuehrer," as death announcements stated generally at the start of the war. In newspapers very little is written about Hitler. He rarely speaks officially. Dr. Robert Ley, chief of Germany's labor front, commented recently that Hitler's "greatest strength lies in his silence."

Goering Seldom Seen.

The man whom Hitler designated as his successor should he die — Hermann Goering, chairman of the council for defense of the Reich— has disappeared entirely from the public eye. He is sitting in his own headquarters at Karinhall Hunting lodge, outside Berlin. All powers he once had now have been ceded to the three men who always had been his opponents — Paul Joseph Goebbels, Heinrich Himmler and Albert Speer.

"Last time I saw him was in Berlin just before Christmas on the Wilhelmsplatz," my source said of Goering. "In company of three generals he drove in front of ruins of the Hotel Kaiserhof, where Hitler once had his unofficial chancellery. Passersby greeted him enthusiastically."

One of the most active Nazi leaders presently is Dr. Ley, who has been dubbed "The Priest" by workers because he generally concludes his addresses with a prayer for Hitler.

Ley's pep talks to workers, which never have been reported in detail by the press, generally end thus: "Dear God, protect our Fuehrer. Let the heaviest bombs fall on us; let us lose our homes, property, our men, brothers and children at the front. All this is immaterial if only you protect our dear Fuehrer, Adolf Hitler, and allow him to live."

Has Big Job.

Politically, Ley rates low. "Utterances by Dr. Ley should not be taken too seriously," Paul Schmidt, foreign office spokesman, told the foreign press at a conference following the putsch. The propaganda ministry said: "You will do Germany great service if you don't publish Ley's articles."

His biggest job is to solve the housing shortage resulting from bombings. Hundreds of so-called "Palais du Ley" now are springing up outside Berlin. They are small, two-room wooden houses, 12 by 18 yards in size, without plumbing.

"Ley has realized his great plans," bombed - out Germans complain bitterly. "In accordance with his promise, we now have more light, air and sun."

Growing out of this virtual contempt, the question being generally asked is "How do Nazi leaders intend to save themselves when the war ends in Allied victory?"

(Ley was reported this month to have purchased secretly a large farm in Argentina.)

"According to common conception in Germany," my informant said, "they all will flee abroad. People claim Hitler has his own giant U-boat in Gdynia, and with others intends to flee to Japan.

"Others are supposed to have prepared for flight to South America, and men such as Goering to Sweden. Everyone believes only a few will commit suicide."

Cannon-Firing Aircraft Now Borne by Carriers

WASHINGTON. — Cannon - firing warplanes, the first ever built for operation from an aircraft carrier, are in operation against the Japanese, the navy disclosed.

They are the Curtiss Helldiver dive-bombers, equipped with 20-mm. guns to blast enemy positions and equipment.

The cannons, attached in fixed positions on the leading edge of the wing, take the place formerly used for .50-caliber machine guns. In addition, the planes retain the flexible machine-gun positions operated by the rear-seat gunner and radioman.

Whole Blood Flown Over To European War Zones

WASHINGTON. — Air shipment of whole blood to the European combat zone started recently, boosting Red Cross requirements for blood donations by 1,000 pints a day.

The project may be expanded to other theaters, the Red Cross, army and navy said, as techniques for preservation of the perishable whole blood on the longer journey are perfected.

YOEMEN DEFEAT ROSEBUD 34-13

Friday night, before one of the best crowds of the season, the Yoemen won their third game of the week by defeating the Rosebud basketball team 34 to 13. This was the second time this season that the Yoemen have defeated Rosebud.

Alvin Gerick was again high scorer with 17 points. While Jimmy Marek played his usual good offensive game to score 8 points. Otto Gerick, squatty guard, played a good floor game as did Eanes, Kennedy and Graham.

The Yoemen have only three more games to play this season and these will be played at Cameron. They are with Temple, Thorndale and Lexington.

C, HENRY RUBY BURIED IN CAMERON SATURDAY

Funeral services for C. Henry Ruby, 88, pioneer, who died at his home in Cameron Friday afternoon were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, February 10, 1945, from First Methodist Church, with interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Ruby had been critically ill since Monday when he suffered a heart stroke. He was one of the early pioneers and at one time was Tax Collector for the City of Cameron under the administration of the late B. I. Arnold. He had also engaged in other years in the merchantile business.

Mr. Ruby was born January 13, 1856, in Owensboro, Ky. He came to Texas 70 years ago and settled at Port Sullivan on the Brazos. He talked with great interest of the early days for he remembered much about developments. Port Sullivan was then a thriving school town and the Brazos was visualized as navigable for commercial shipping. Accordingly Congress authorized an appropriation in later years and the old cement dock still stands in the bed of the river north of the highway bridge. The flow of the river was never sufficient to justify the early dreams of the pioneers.

Mr. Ruby moved to Cameron from Port Sullivan and on November 5, 1884, married Miss Nora Whites of the Corinth community.

Mr. Ruby has since made his home in Cameron. He had engaged in business and in late years kept a small shop at his home on North Fannin Avenue.

He was the father of 4 children 3 of whom survive as follows: Martin S. Ruby of Waco; Mrs. A. L. Peterson of Yoakum; and Mrs. Bill Alex Bonds of Cameron. One child died in infancy. A niece Mrs. Vernon Roberts, lives in Temple. She was reared in the Ruby home since infancy.

Mrs. Tom Ormand, a sister, survives and lives in Temple. She was in Cameron Saturday to attend the funeral. Four grand children survive. They are Lt. Martin Ruby, Jr., Army Air Corps, stationed at Randolph Field. Lt. Ruby, is famous graduate of A & M College and All American football celebrity. Henry Ruby, Jr., is with the armed forces in the Pacific. Ruth and Dorothy Ruby, nieces also live in Waco.

Mr. Ruby was a life long member of the Methodist church and served on the Board of Stewards here for many years. He died Friday February 9, 1945, at 2:30 p. m. at his home in Cameron. Funeral services were held at First Methodist church at 3 p. m. Saturday, February 10, 1945. Rev. K. R. Isbell, pastor, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. John C. Solomon, Pastor First Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Oak Hill Cemetery with the Green Funeral Home directing arrangements.

Pall bearers were: Niley Smith, Sr., Roy Baskin, A. J. Triggs, Jesse Kirk, Bob Terry and John B. Henderson. Honorary Pall bearers were: R. L. Batte, H. M. Hefley, Jeff T. Kemp, C. F. Spiller, W. H. Triggs, R. H. McIntosh, Manuel Werner, O. B. Beasley and other close friends of the family.

St. Rita Circle Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the St. Rita Circle was held Wednesday, February 7, at 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Leo Laake with Mrs. F. A. Somer as joint hostess.

Rev. Duda opened the meeting with a prayer. During the business session of the meeting, the president, Mrs. Ralph Michalka presided.

Twenty five members were present with Mrs. Grace Plocek, De Prest, Mrs. Johnnie Senkel, Houston and Mrs. Frank Sutter.

Refreshments of pie-al-mode and coffee were served. The next meeting will be held February 21st, at the home of B. J. Matocha, with Mrs. Bill Michalka as co-hostess.

Mary Elizabeth O'Leary was born at Newton Memorial Hospital, February 10, 1945, at 11:02 a. m. to Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Leary. She weighed 9 pounds and 6 onces. Her mother is the former Mary Katherine Lawrence.

Victory Garden for Every Family is Aim Of East Texas Area

A victory garden for every family in its 71-county region is suggested by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce through its agricultural department.

The regional chamber is asking all local chambers of commerce to work in close co-operation with their agents in carrying forward this project.

It was pointed out that victory gardens not ony will supplement the food supply at home, but will help make it possible for America to send more food to our fighting men, our allies and the peoples of liberated countires.

T. R. Cosby, pioneer who lives on Rt. 4, out of Cameron, was in the city Saturday. He has been a reader of The Herald for many years and has renewed for the coming year. SOVIET PRESS HAILS YALTA AGREEMENTS

The German leaders have called a conference in Berlin to discuss the 9 point agreement reached at Yalta in the Crimea by Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin.

The conference was represented as a possible attempt to re-solidify the German people for continued resistance because the Berlin spokesman called the Big 3 announcement on yesterday as the "Hate Program of Yalta." Briefly the Germans summed up the conference announcement from Yalta as:

The Hate Program of Yalta.

A crime on mankind and humanity.

Moscow will be a slave market.

The Jews are behind the plan to destroy Germany.

The Germans were especially beligerent over the proposed 4 zone occupation of the Reich by the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France.

The Soviet press hailed the Yalta agreements with unstinted praise as Democratic co-operation. The London comment was that the British are especially pleased that the United States is pledged to help reorganize Europe. The British have been critical of the United States for 25 years for the failure of the Senate to ratify the Versailles treaty and to lend co-operation under the League of Nations covenant.

War news of the day revealed the Canadians as advancing from Pruem which they captured Monday but stiffened German resistance was being encountered. The Third Army under General George Patton now controls highways leading to Coblenz. The Red army is advancing.

Berlin reported the fall of Budapest, capital of Hungary.

Poles in America condemn the plan which would restablish the Polish boundaries and set up a Polish government.

Senator Tom Connally, Chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, was among the Washington officials who said that plans were no doubt discussed at Yalta for crushing and dealing with Japan.

Russia, not at war with Japan, may have sidestepped any discussion on her own account of the far eastern war.

Vitamin B

In their raw or original state most plant and animal foods contain some of the B vitamins, but only a few foods contain very much. Some foods are relatively rich in one B, some in another. For special mention there are lean pork, liver and kidney and other meat organs, whole grains, dried beans and peas, soybeans and nuts — particularly peanuts. Other foods that supply B vitamins include lean meats, eggs, milk, vegetables and fruits. Under the government's enrichment program synthetic riboflavin, thiamine, niacin and iron are added to bread.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Plan to Resume Foreign Trade

U. S. Will Collect Data on Economic Conditions in Liberated Countries.

WASHINGTON. — Preparing the ground for quick resumption of American trade with liberated countries, the state and commerce departments have instructed diplomats to gather economic information for business and government use.

A joint announcement recently said that American diplomatic and consular representatives in all areas freed from the Axis have received instructions on reports they are to prepare as speedily as possible.

What U. S. Wants to Know.

The main things which the government wants to know are as follows:

1. Immediate supply requirements and estimates of economic conditions in liberated areas.

2. General summary of social and economic conditions needed as an essential guide to American foreign policy.

3. Analyses of special economic conditions as a guide to resumption of commercial trade and investment.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and the state department will make information available to business as quickly as possible, the statement said.

If special inquiries are addressed to the bureau, the government will seek answers from its representatives throughout the world. In some parts of the world, however, war devastation will prevent "immediate and full return to private trade." Trade reporting will be pushed ahead in those areas so that the situation can be brought into hand as soon as normal commercial possibilities open up.

Get an Economic Picture.

The representatives are instructed to gather data on the condition of American business interests and contacts in areas liberated from the Nazis and thus cut off from the Allied world as much as five years. They have also been assigned to check up on American property and interests stolen or otherwise taken over by Axis agents.

The requested details, when brought together, will give American officials and businessmen an economic picture of what liberated Europe can buy from this country and how good an investment each area is likely to be. At the same time the reports are expected to provide a reliable indicator of Europe's chances for avoiding economic and resulting social chaos in the transition from war to peace.

Borrower Makes Goat Out of 'Good Samaritan'

CARTERVILLE, ILL.—Raymond Talley has lost some of his faith in humanity together with his tire pump, jack and screw driver.

A good-natured man, Talley didn't object to being awakened one night by a motorist who wanted to borrow a jack, since his car had a flat tire. He found the jack and returned to bed, only to be routed out a second time because the stranger needed a screw driver.

Even when the borrower knocked a third time asking for a pump, Talley kept his temper, but the next morning, when he discovered that his equipment had been taken for a ride, he regretted his Good Samaritanism.

U. S. Discloses a New Type of Towing Craft

WASHINGTON.—The War Shipping administration disclosed that a new type of craft—a 195-foot tug capable of towing almost anything afloat—now is operating in the war zones.

There are 49 of the tugs, the administration reported, adding that they have "distinguished themselves by unprecedented feats of heavy hauling to the far corners of the earth."

The oversize tugs each are powered by two Diesel engines and carry sufficient oil to remain at sea for 75 days. They carry a crew of 40 merchant seamen and officers and a navy crew to man a 2½ inch gun.

"Sure, I'm proud Johnny is over there fighting for his country," said Johnny's mother. "But he's far too young. I want to get him back home."

Historic Papers Have Been Restored to View

WASHINGTON. — The original copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, hidden inland after the outbreak of the war, returned to public view in the Library of Congress.

The documents were part of 4,789 cases of material—equivalent of 26 freight car loads—which the library transferred to five secret storage places.

CLARKSON H. D. NEWS

The Clarkson Home Demonstration Club met January 25, 1945, in the home of Mrs. Emil Skupin.

The County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Cook, gave a demonstration on home cleaning and pressing. We learned how to clean clothing in naptha. A thorough job can be done at home with much less expense than when taken to the tailor shop. We also learned when pressing woolen clothes to first put woolen cloth next to the garment to be pressed. Dampen this cloth then cover with a piece of heavy cotton, and this steams the material.

There were eight members and four visitors present. The visitors were: Mrs. Rex Mitchell, Mrs. John Maracek, Mrs. Edd Slovacek and Miss Albina Malchik. Visitors are always welcome as well as new members.

After all business the hostess served a lovely refreshment plate.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Perry Strickler on February 15th when a demonstration on hat making will be given.

Apple Storage

When storing apples, indoors or out, keep them well to themselves because they absorb odors. They will smell as though they had been dipped in creosote if put into a barrel that ever contained creosote or like kerosene if a kerosene stove is placed in the storage room to raise the temperature.

Dramatic Story of Hero Veteran Plea For Understanding

"Let every soldier know now that the American Legion pledges he shall come back a free man to a land of peace and security and equal opportunity for all."

These stirring words by Commander Louis Johnson, chairman of the American Legion National Commission on Post War America, are a promise that the story of Eddie Ballinger, hero veteran, shall never happen again.

Dramatically, the history of Eddie Ballinger is recounted in Republic's powerful screen drama, "My Buddy," starring Donald Barry, which comes to the screen of the Cameron Theatre on Wednesday.

"My Buddy," is Hollywood's first daring account of what might happen to the boy next door, if, when he comes marching home he finds himself considered excess baggage in a civilian world. Eddie Ballinger, whose embitterment leads him to forsake the love of his mother and his sweetheart to follow a career of crime, is conscious that things would have been different had he been given a chance to find security and happiness, by those whom he fought to protect.

Lest civilians forget, "My Buddy" is an appeal for understanding, and for preparation now, for the returning heroes.

Throughout the nation, patrotic and civic groups are working with legislators to establish a plan so G. I. Joe is welcome home with a practical program for his adjustment to a peacetime world, worked out by grateful civilians.

Two lively young actresses, Ruth Terry and Lynne Roberts top the feminine cast of "My Buddy."

BURKES AND HOWARD TO ERECT BUILDING

A significant new development along commercial row which opens up greater merchandising possibilities and expansion of farm equipment service here, is the announcement of plans by the Burkes-Howard Tractor Company to erect a building on their properties here.

Plans are being formulated but no contract has been let. The building will be a brick structure and will be erected on the property fronting east on North Fannin and north on Highway 77. Contemplated new buildings for that area of the city are the proposed new Municipal building and the Auditorium, Library and Mueseum on city property east across Fannin from the Burkes-Howard properties. Also north on Highway 77 indications are a Bus Terminal will be built.

Materials are not yet available but the Burkes-Howard plans seem certain to materialize in a short time as brick can be obtained.

The Burkes-Howard Tractor Company sells Farmall Tractors and International Harvester Company farm equipment. A new home for these activities would be commensurate with the progress of this firm here an a splendid tribute to the enterprise of these young men who are looking ahead.

Six Months in Prison For Robbing Blind Man

BROOKLYN. — Six months in the federal penitentiary for stealing money from a blind candy dealer was the penalty imposed on Harry Miller, 44 years old, of Brooklyn. Not only did Miller steal from a blind man, the court was advised, but he did it in the guise of philanthropy.

The victim was Frank Dunkler, who has been allowed to sell candy from a counter in the corridor of the postoffice for the last 14 years. One day last January, Miller offered to handle Mr. Dunkler's candy stand for half an hour or so every noon in order that the blind man might have a few minutes to enjoy his lunch. The candy man accepted the kind offer, but it was only a matter of a few weeks when he realized that his noon receipts were falling off alarmingly. At long last he complained to a postoffice inspector. A trap was set and on May 3 Miller was caught red-handed, with a fist full of marked money.

Miller admitted his guilt to the inspector who questioned him, and pleaded that knowledge of his arrest would shock his seriously ill wife and begged that he be permitted to go home, promising that he would surrender in the federal court the next morning. Instead of keeping his word, Miller fled to Los Angeles where postoffice inspectors caught up with him. He pleaded guilty to the indictment.

Coal Mine Driller Is Killed by Freak Mishap

SCRANTON, PA.—Edward Caple, 36, of Winton, was a victim of one of the most unusual accidents in the history of Lackawanna county.

An employee of a midvalley mining company in Winton, Caple was drilling for coal pockets and sand filled the holes. In order to clear them he set off a charge of dynamite.

As the charge went off, water spurted 60 feet in the air, and passed over a high tension wire. Nearly 5,000 volts of electricity raced down the geyser and contacted a hand-operated battery Caple was using, killing him instantly.

Kidnap Victim of 1935 Is Inducted by Army

FORT LEWIS, WASH. — George Weyerhaeuser, member of a prominent lumbering family who gained world-wide prominence in 1935 when he was kidnaped and held for $200,000 ransom, was inducted into the armed forces of the United States here. Weyerhaeuser, who was nine years old when he was kidnaped, was released near Issaquah, Wash., unharmed. His kidnapers are serving federal prison terms. The ransom was recovered.

Wanda Vaughan and Pvt. R. M. Lyles Are Wed at Lake Jackson

The marriage of Miss Wanda Vaughan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Vaughan, of this city, to Pvt. Randolph M. Lyles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lyles of Angleton, was solemnized in sweet simplicity Friday evening, January 9, 1945, at 7:30, at the bride's home. Rev. John L. Shepherd of Angleton, officiated, before their parents and a few close friends.

The bride wore a pearl gray dressmaker suit, with orchid accessories, and an orchid corsage. She carried a white Bible which was overlaid with white stock, caught with white satin streamers.

Mrs. John D. Angenend, matron of honor, chose a frock of sheer black, with orchid anemone corsage.

John D. Angenend served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Vaughan, mother of the bride, was gowned in black, with a white carnation corsage, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Lyles, was dressed in gray crepe, with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony. The table covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement of white stock and candytuft, flanked by white tapers in crystal candle sticks. A lovely silver service and the bride's tiered cake completed the table arrangement.

The bride is a graduate of Cameron High School and attended Baylor University. She is well known in Lake Jackson because of her interest in Scout and teen-age work.

Private Lyles is a graduate of A & M College. He is grand son of the late Major Lyles of Cameron.

The couple left for a short wedding trip following which Pvt. Lyles expects to leave for a paratroop school for six weeks training before being sent into overseas service, and Mrs. Lyles will return to her parents' home for the duration.—Lake Jackson News.

Tech Sgt. Edward O. Schiller, Jr., and wife of Louisville, Ky., will leave Saturday for his assignment after visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schiller for a week.

E. H. Miller of Burlington transacted business in Cameron this week.

BRYAN PRODUCTION CREDIT MEET CALLED

John W. Gilpin, local representative of the Bryan Production Credit Association, has announced that the anual stockholders' meeting of the association will be held in the auditorium of the Stephen F. Austin High School in Bryan on Saturday, Feb. 17, and a good representation is expected to attend the meeting from Milam County. For the convenience of the members not having transportation, the Milam County Advisory Committee, Frank Klement, chairman, has arranged for a bus to leave Cameron at 9 a. m. and the day of meeting, and states that those who plan to ride the bus should notify Mr. Gilpin to that effect by Feb. 10th.

Milam County has two members on the board of directors of the Bryan association, Frank W. Worley of Rockdale and H. L. Yager of Maysfield. During the past 11 years the association has loaned more than six million dollars to the farmers and stockholders in the six counties served by the association, and members now have a stock investment of $61,375 in capital stock.

Frank Worley has been fattening a good white faced calf, and the barbecue will be prepared by the Rodenbeck Bros. of Thorndale. As has been the case in the past, a barbecue lunch will be served at noon, and then the members will be given a report showing what the association accomplished during 1944. Two new directors of the association will be elected.

BIG THREE DECLARES NO TERM SURRENDER

The Red Army is in Frankfurt and Kustrin only a few miles from Berlin and a report widely broadcast today from Finland said that the vanguard of Russian tanks had rolled to the outskirts of the German capital.

The picture was even more dark for the Germans than at this stage of the war in 1918. Anything may be expected out of the highly speculative situation. It was pointed out that in 1918 the Germans were still on French soil. Today they are hemmed in around their capital with no signs of strength enough to fend off the Russian and Allied armies now closing in.

An Allied source said that General Eisenhower was expected to issue an appeal to the German people.

The Big Three, Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, now in conference somewhere in the Black Sea area have said that unconditional surrender of Germany will have to come from the German General Staff.

A final, all out offensive was expected hourly as General Eisenhower massed his strength on the west wall, now torn to shreds by the First and Third American armies.

Chimney Swifts

As their name implies, chimney swifts nest and sleep by preference in chimneys—a modern adaptation of the hollow-tree homes of their ancestors, still used by many swifts. Audubon once entered such a hollow tree at night to observe the swifts; he estimated 9,000 sleeping birds above him.

Blind GI Says, 'Show Me Where to Shoot' and Dies

AITAPE, NEW GUINEA. — Just before he died Pvt. George Klym of Gorham, N. D.—blind and comatose American soldier—pulled on the sleeve of a battalion hospital corpsman and said: "Don't move me. Just show me where to shoot."

With that the world of war slipped from him and it made no difference that his eyes had lost the light of life. The corpsman covered his face and went on to the next case.

Not 30 minutes before, Klym, standing midnight watch in a foxhole outpost, fought off a Japanese "banzai charge" with an automatic rifle singlehanded until the rest of his outfit was aroused by the din and joined him to repulse the suicide attack.

In the dark all the Japanese could see was the blazing muzzle of Klym's gun and so they fired and charged at it. He took their fire, stood his ground and pumped bullets into the charging enemy. They shot out both his eyes and still he stood and fired. He was still firing when he went down. And he wanted to fire some more just before death intervened at the battalion hospital.

Jap Slain While Church Rites in Guam Go Ahead

AGANA, GUAM. — Strange things may be seen in Agana, ruined capital of Guam.

In a tent next to a ruined church, services were held recently with a score of men attending and a portable organ playing.

A squad of men, looking for a Japanese who had entered the town during the night, worked to within 50 yards of the church. There, in the midst of the hymn singing, they found the lone enemy. Shots drowned out the organ for a few seconds, and the Japanese lay still.

The organist never missed a note; none of the singers even turned around.

Sentry Calls 'Halt' but Bull Keeps on His Way

CAMP CARSON, COLO. — Sentry duty can sometimes result in a fellow gaining some impromptu knowledge. At least that's the opinion of Corp. Paul Tracy, of San Pedro, Calif.

Corporal Tracy was on night patrol recently when he saw a shadow. He shouted at the shadow to halt, and when there was no answer, advanced to claim his "prisoner."

The "prisoner" turned out to be an angry, full-grown bull, and Corporal Tracy did a quick job of climbing a nearby tree.

Suicide Fails, Lies 20 Hours With Broken Leg

WASHINGTON. — Her two suicide attempts having failed, Miss Phyllis Murray, 25, a government worker, lay in a clump of weeds for 20 hours with a broken leg without calling for help.

Miss Murray, daughter of James J. Murray of Pittsburgh, an official of the maritime commission, told officers she swallowed rat poison, and when it had no effect, jumped from a 100-foot cliff in Rock Creek park.

Neither she nor her father could supply a motive.

Pfc. Alexander Fuessel Back After 39 Months Service in Pacific

Reporting to the Army Ground and Service Forces Redistribution Station in Hot Springs, Arkansas, Pfc. Alexander Fussell, Buckholts, is now living in one of the four major Hot Springs hotels acquired by the Army to house the new installation.

Veteran of 39 months overseas service in the foreign battle fronts, Pfc. Fuessel returned to the United States in January. Prior to reporting in at Hot Springs he spent a furlough with his mother, Mrs. Ella Fuessel in Buckholts.

He will be in Hot Springs for less than two weeks, waiting reassignment to active duty. The primary function of the Redistribution Station, to assign the returned soldier to the Army job for which he is best fitted, will be accomplished in surroundings designed for rest and relaxation.

Pvt. Willie L. Cummings of Fort Warren, Wyoming, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Cummings of Thorndale. While on her furlough she also visited friends in Cameron.

Mrs. Charlie Russell of Yarrellton shopped in Cameron recently.

Mrs. Hubert I. Moseley of Flint, Michigan, has joined her husband in Cameron, Pfc. Hubert I. Moseley who has returned from overseas.

Mrs. M. L. Lewis of Dallas has recovered from an operation at Newton Memorial Hospital and has returned to her home.

"My dad's calling me up tonight"

"I haven't seen him for some time.

"If you are not in the service, would you mind going easy on Long Distance between 7 and 10 tonight so his call can get through quicker?

"Pop and I will be mighty grateful."

T. P. & L. TRANSMISSION LINE ELECTRIC POWER

HELPS BUILD CITIES

The ability of towns and communities to attract new industries . . . to grow into real metropolitan centers of their surrounding territory . . . depends, in large measure, upon the type of electric power service available.

The Texas Power & Light Company understood this when it pioneered the development of transmission line electric service in Texas in 1912. Towns served by TP&L transmission lines offer to new industries the same power inducements as the largest cities . . . an abundant supply of dependable, low-cost electric power, adequate for any new industrial developments.

This has been demonstrated during the present war emergency, when military installations and war industries, springing up almost overnight and requiring electric power service equal to the needs of cities of 25,000 to 50,000 population, have been located in the territory served by this Company.

Just as this Company is meeting every electric power need for the War Program today in a large and busy area of Texas, so will it meet the needs of the new industrial era in this area after the war is won.

THE ALL IMPORTANT JOB NOW IS FULL SUPPORT OF EVERY PHASE OF THE WAR . . . which includes Buying New Bonds Regularly and Often!

YOEMEN IN RUN AWAY SCORE WITH LEXINGTON

Last night the Yoemen basketball team went on a scoring rampage to completely out class the weak Lexington team, 56 to 6. Alvin Gerick with 28 points and Billie Joe Eanes with 14 points made it a routine matter of hitting field goals while Howard Kennedy, Gillis Graham, and Otto Gerick completely throttled the Lexington lads with their defense.

The "B" team is due a lot of credit, having won a great majority of their games, one of which was against the strong Temple "B" team. Boys on this team which have been showing up exceptionally well are: Earl McDonald, J. D. McGoldrick, Bruce Price, Douglas Houston, Russell Wallis, Lawrence Michalka and Lucien Kruse. They defeated the Lexington "B" team last night

New British Ships Have Postwar Aim

Will Be Used After War to Recoup Lost Tonnage.

LONDON.—British shipyards will soon be allowed to switch over to the construction of small ocean tramps and troop carriers that will be as adaptable for postwar needs as they will be useful in the war against Japan, it was announced in the house of lords by Lord Leathers, minister of war transport.

The Minister said the agreement recently concluded by the United Nations to pool their shipping resources until the end of the war would have a direct bearing on postwar problems.

It would permit the release of any surplus ships on a basis that would not discriminate against the commercial interests of any of the nations concerned, he declared.

"No one must have a flying start," Lord Leathers said. "At the same time each of the nations must have its share. Our merchant navy must be at least as large as before the war and as much larger as British efficiency and enterprise can make it in a world from which we hope artificial obstacles to trade will at last have been in some measure removed."

The Minister pointed out that there would be an end after the war to subsidization of competing merchant fleets by Britain's chief enemies and he said he hoped British ship owners would obtain the cargo formerly carried by enemy ships.

Admitting that the standard 10,000-tonners built during the war would have limited post-war usefulness, he said the number that would be considered surplus a few years after the war would be "frightening." No more tramp tonnage of this type need now be begun, since there are enough to end the war against Japan, he said.

Pilots Drop Fuel Tanks To Burn German Trains

A UNITED STATES FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND.—Other Mustang pilots laughed at a June briefing when Lieut. Col. Thomas L. Haynes Jr., Portland, Ore., told them to drop their gasoline laden belly tanks on enemy supply columns and then strafe the tank with incendiary bullets.

But Haynes, a veteran of the Pacific, was serious. He had already used the idea to force Japanese out of foxholes. This fire bombing plan has achieved good results and the idea has spread to Thunderbolt and Lightning groups.

The most spectacular attack so far was when Lieut. Hugh Moorehouse, Phoenix, Ariz., dropped a tank into the firebox of a German locomotive. The engine blew up and the whole train was destroyed.

"A railroad yard makes a swell target," said Lieut. Col. Irwin Dregne, Viroqua, Wis. "You get a good fire going among the cars and the first thing you know the whole yard is in flaming ruin."

British Seize Youngest Prisoner, Likes His Bath

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, FRANCE.—British troops have captured their youngest prisoner in the battle of France. He is a 10-year-old youth dressed in a German uniform.

He confessed his age between sobs and said that he "Never shot anyone."

He said he was a step-son of a shanghaied Russian fighting with the Germans, and that his name was Stanlius. He was found hding in a dugout with six Nazi troops.

He was incredibly dirty and frightened, but his fears soon turned to bubbling delight when the British put him through the standard delousing process.

Stanlius loved it. He showered himself with insectide powder and a few minutes later agreed that although a bath was strange, it was not too bad.

The British Tommies who captured him want to adopt him—now that he is fumigated.

He Took Bath Every Two Weeks, There's the Rub

CHICAGO, ILL. — When Mrs. Ann Wissotzky, 38, asked that her former husband, Harry, 45, be arrested for being $1,087 in arrears in alimony, she didn't know where he lived, but recalled that he usually took a bath every second Sunday at a certain Russian bathhouse.

Mrs. Wissotzky and a deputy sheriff assigned to the search kept watch there, but it was not Wissotzky's week to bathe. He was arrested in the bath the next Sunday.

"You'll have to sweat it out in jail now," Judge John A. Sbarbaro told Wissotzky when he sentenced him for nonpayment. "They have tubs, showers and a fire hose there and you can stay six months."
